THE SPIRIT OF THE FIRST FOURTH

INASMUCH as the readers of the Bonanza are thinking and talking of little save the celebration of the Fourth today, the Bonanza has practically given over the edition to that subject. It is interesting on this occasion to revert in memory to not only the beginnings of government as a nation, but to likewise recall the pioneer days of Tonopah, particularly as there are assembled here so many of the old timers who have come many miles for the annual celebration of the adoption of America's Magna Charta.

Elsewhere will be found the full text of the first Fourth of July oration delivered in the camp. It is easy to picture the scene; even the voice of the speaker comes back across the bridge of years. From 1901 to 1915 is but a brief epoch in the history of a long established community, but in these fourteen years Tonopah has grown from a newfound mining district to the premier silver-gold producer in the world. They were sturdy men, the bold three hundred that pioneered the camp, leaving the pleasures and comforts of the farming village and the teeming city to come out to the uncharted desert and the silent hills to wrest their fortunes from the unwilling lodes.

They were a patriotic people, these pioneers of Tonopah, even as Nevadans have always been from the days when they voted to sustain the president in his efforts to save the nation, when they mined the half billion of minted dollars that preserved the credit of the government. We may romp and revel tomorrow and Monday as we celebrate the Fourth. We have opportunities now that were not vouchsafed fourteen years ago, but it is doubtful if we can improve upon the spirit of loyalty and patriotism that was felt by the hearers and expressed by the speaker when Bob Gordon delivered the first Fourth of July oration in camp.

REALLY A CRIME AGAINST GERMANY

FIGHTING fire with fire is a time honored practice and counter-irritants are recognized by the medical profession, but combating war with the pistol and with dynamite is not a practical method, nor does it give any moral standing to one who adopts it. The shooting of J. P. Morgan today by a German professor, who claims to have been actuated by laudable motives, is not an act that will materially assist the German propaganda in this country.

If the act of intended murder had been committed by a person of low intelligence, a prey to emotions inspired by anarchistic utterances of low browed agitators, there would be some palliation for the deed, but coming from a cool minded, calmly reflective German college professor, the act amounts to an infamous crime, one that should be protested against by all German-Americans who have the welfare of their fatherland at heart, as well as obedience to the laws of God and of their adopted country.

AN INSPECTOR DEMANDED

ENTERIC diseases cause suffering and death in this city during the heated term the blame will lie largely at the doors of those who have authority in the stationing of pure food and drug inspectors. Reno has less need of an inspector than Tonopah, for the riverside town is in the center of a valley where it is but a step from the field, abattoir and dairy to the kitchen, while food supplies are brought hundreds of miles to this city, across heated plains, where deterioration is rapid and where germ cultures inimical to the human system are easily developed.

There should be close inspection of every food product that goes on the Tonopah table and the dealer in impure provisions should be punished as the law prescribes. If an official were stationed here to thoroughly examine what goes upon the dinner tables he would doubtless find occasion to make it very interesting for some dealers, while the general health of the community would be greatly bettered.

NEW SET OF SCAPEGOATS

A YEAR AGO it was Huerta who was the ogre of Mexico. It was to him that all the wordy thunders of the White House were addressed. He received the unparalleled distinction of being made the subject of a special message read in person to congress by the president. Later Villa and Carranza, and the rest of that crew of rival bandits among whom Bryan played his favorites, became national heroes in seeking to uplift the "submerged 85 per cent." Now it is Villa and Carranza who feel the lash. They are receiving the "sharp notes." Congress is not in session, so there will be no special message. Next year, we suppose there will be a new set of scapegoats in Mexico.

The young men who went so gallantly to the aid of the girl who was burned by gasoline yesterday and are stowed away in ointment and bandages as a result, are of the type that avoids notoriety, but they are well deserving of words of the highest commendation and they should be freely spoken when the doctors and nurses get through with them and they are on the streets again.

Somebody—typist or proof reader, it is immaterial—permitted another zero to be added in yesterday's Bonanza to the salary of the district attorney. It would be gratifying to the taxpayers of Nye county if all the figures were zeros.

A southern California town, that has been operating upon the commission form of government, wants a receiver. Let Diek do it.

FREE MATINEE FOR WOMEN AND CHILDREN

COOL, COMFORTABLE RESTING PLACES AND AMUSEMENT AFFORDED

Vice-chairman Burnham, authorized by the executive committee of the Fourth of July celebration, arranged this morning with Jules Smith for the use of both the Butler and Pastime theaters Monday by the women and children. The amount paid, $100, was much less than the receipts would have been on this occasion, so the difference may be considered as an additional subscription by Mr. Smith to the celebration. The program is as follows:

The Pastime will be open all day until 6 o'clock and the fans will be kept running, so that people may drop in and rest whenever they desire. At 3 o'clock, when the boxing carnival begins, the women and children, for whom no other amusement is provided at that time, will be given a free matinee. They may come earlier in the day to the Butler for rest if they so desire. They will also be given two free shows in the evening, with feature service.

Shall It Be an Autoloading or Pump Gun?

THERE are many kinds of Autoloading and Pump guns—some to be had at very low prices.

But it is typical of sportsmen that the great majority prefer Remington-UMC Pump and Autoloading guns in the hands of the average man.

If you shoot at traps or in the field, go to the Remington-UMC Dealer in your community and let him show you these guns. You will know him by his display of the Red Ball Mark of Remington-UMC—Sportsmen's Headquarters—and he knows the difference in guns.
